

BROOKLYN EDITION OF THE EVENING WORLD--ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.
FROM 44 STATES

National Convention of Democratic Clubs in Session.

OVATION TO MR. CLEVELAND.

Academy of Music Filled with Thousands of Enthusiastic Delegates.

THREE ELOQUENT ADDRESSES.

A Resolution of Sympathy for Mrs. Harri on Adopted by Acclamation.

The Academy of Music, where the National Convention of the Association of Democratic Clubs was opened to-day, was all ready for the reception of the delegates early this morning. An army of doormen had been at work in the big hall ever since midnight, and at 6 o'clock they had completed their labors.

SENATOR ARTHUR F. GORMAN.
H. W. Ferguson, and prominent Democrats from all over the union are here with the visiting delegations.

SENATOR ROBERT ADAIR.

A big cheer went up when the Jefferson
Club, of Philadelphia, marched into the hall carrying Mr. White, who was the leader of the delegation set up beside Mr.
Cleveland's box.

The arrival of the Virginia delegates was greeted with cheers, and as they filed down to their places the band struck up "Dixie" and "Old Dan Tucker." After the first delegation which arrived was given three rousing cheers.

"Four Years More of Grover."
The delegates brought with them which took up its position on the opposite side of the auditorium, and immediately started in with the familiar "grover" song by the two bands, and when a fresh supply of cheers for Cleveland and Stevenson were brought in from the galleries and boxes the crowd shouted itself hoarse.

The stage was decorated with a new flag and a stone water jug, and the attention of the audience was attracted by a signal from the point and the empty box which was reserved for Mr. Cleveland's party.

already been supplied with badges by Secretary Gardner.

Among some of the more prominent clubs present are the Waterson Club, of Louisville, Ky.; the Daniel Club, of Portsmouth, Va.; the John S. Parker Club, of Norfolk, Va.; the Calumet Club, of Baltimore; the Randall Club, of St. Louis; the Hancock Veterans, of Philadelphia.

Gov. Boyd is here at the head of the Nebraska delegation at Stevenson Club. The Gov. Adams with the Colorado Club. The Pennsylvania delegation is headed by Congressman Amerman, North Carolina by The Academy Filling Rapidly.

At 6 o'clock the Convention opened with the singing of the national anthem, and at 10 o'clock were the visiting delegations.

SENATOR ROBERT ADAIR.

A big cheer went up when the Jefferson
Club, of Philadelphia, marched into the hall carrying Mr. White, who was the leader of the delegation set up beside Mr.
Cleveland's box.

The arrival of the Virginia delegates was
greeted with cheers, and as they filed down
to their places the band struck up "Dixie"
and "Old Dan Tucker." After the first delegation which arrived was given three
rousing cheers.

"Four Years More of Grover."
The delegates brought with them
which took up its position on the opposite side of the auditorium, and immediately
started in with the familiar "grover" song
by the two bands, and when a fresh supply of cheers for Cleveland and Stevenson were
brought in from the galleries and boxes the
crowd shouted itself hoarse.

The stage was decorated with a new flag and a stone water jug, and the attention of the audience was attracted by a signal from the
point and the empty box which was reserved
for Mr. Cleveland's party.

The Jefferson and Randall clubs from Philadelphia were among the early arrivals in town this morning. They came about five hundred strong and were met at the ferry and escorted to the headquarters and then to the Academy by the 24th regiment of Harlem.

HE ACCUSES POLICEMAN CRAIG IN HIGHEST COURT.

William Mulhearn Says He Was Robbed of $137 in Bills.

The Officer Was a Friend and Had Helped Him Home.

Policeman Joseph Craig, of the West Thirtieth street station, was before Justice White in the Jefferson Market Court this morning, charged with stealing $137 in bills.

The complainant in the case was William Mulhearn, a tender, living at 530 West Thirty-eighth street.

Mulhearn's statement made in court this morning was as follows:
About 2 o'clock Sunday morning Mulhearn, who was partially under the influence of liquor, was sitting at a table in a saloon at the northeast corner of Tenth avenue and Thirty-eighth street, when Policeman Craig, who was in full uniform, entered the place.

Mulhearn and the policeman were acquainted, and upon the latter's offering to take Mulhearn home he accepted.

Mulhearn said he had the roll of money, $137, in his trousers pocket at the time.
Upon their arrival at Mulhearn's lodgings the tender threw himself down upon a lounge and went to sleep.

There was a light in the room and Mul-hearn said that the last thing he remembered was that he saw Craig in the room with him.

Mulhearn did not awake until 11 o'clock the next morning. When he put his hand in his pocket the money was gone.

Frederick Yeager, who drives a wagon for Mulhearn, and who occupies a room adjoining, told Mulhearn that, attracted by the light in the latter's room, he had looked in and discovered Craig standing over the sleeping man and in the act of taking the money from his pocket.

APPOINTMENT CASES ARGUED BEFORE THE APPELLATE JUDGE.

Mr. Sutherland Speaks Against the Legality of the Act.

The Other Side Upheld by Attorney-General Rosendale.

THE APPELLATE COURT.
ALBANY, Oct. 4.—The three appointment cases came up in the Court of Appeals this morning, each one embracing the question of the constitutionality of the new Appointment law.

In the case of People ex rel Horn, appellant, vs. Board of Supervisors of Onondaga County, H. J. Sutherland was present for appellant and D. F. Searles for respondent.

In the Monroe case C. D. Kiehl, city attorney of Rochester, who is a Republican, spoke for the constitutionality of the law, William A. Sutherland appearing for the board of supervisors.

In the third case, that of Citizen Carter, of Utica, against Secretary of State Rice, New-comb and Love appeared for Carter, and Attorney-General Rosendale for the Secretary of State.

When the court convened at 10 o'clock a number of State officers were present. Mr.
Hittley said that Mr. Sutherland would make the main argument for the Republicans, and Attorney-General Rosendale would make the principal argument for the Democrats.

Mr. Sutherland opened, saying that he would make a general argument covering the three cases.

Mr. Sutherland's argument first dealt with the alleged inequality of representation provided by the present constitution. He held that Monroe County was justly entitled to four Assemblymen, whereas the act of 1902 gave but three. Albany County, with a population of 156,748, has four Assemblymen.

Mr. Sutherland's argument first dealt with
the alleged inequality of representation
provided by the present constitution. He held that Monroe County was justly entitled
to four Assemblymen, whereas the act of 1902 gave but three. Albany County, with a population of 156,748, has four Assemblymen.

THREE NEW DRAMATIC STARS.

Mr. James says that Saturday night he remained in the store until after 11 o'clock. On looking up for the night he left several trays of watches and rings on the showcase, believing that the usual precaution of locking them up in the safe was unnecessary, as much as the store was brightly illuminated.

On opening the store Monday morning the contents of the trays, valued at $1,100, were gone, and there was no trace of the manner in which the entrance was gained.

Mr. James says that Saturday night he remained in the store until after 11
o'clock. On looking up for the night
he left several trays of watches and
rings on the showcase, believing that the
usual precaution of locking them up in the
safe was unnecessary, as much as the store
was brightly illuminated.

On opening the store Monday morning the contents of the trays, valued at $1,100, were
gone, and there was no trace of the manner in which the entrance was gained.

Mr. James says that Saturday night he remained in the store until after 11
o'clock. On looking up for the night
he left several trays of watches and
rings on the showcase, believing that the
usual precaution of locking them up in the
safe was unnecessary, as much as the store
was brightly illuminated.

On opening the store Monday morning the contents of the trays, valued at $1,100, were
gone, and there was no trace of the manner in which the entrance was gained.

Mr. James says that Saturday night he remained in the store until after 11
o'clock. On looking up for the night
he left several trays of watches and
rings on the showcase, believing that the
usual precaution of locking them up in the
safe was unnecessary, as much as the store
was brightly illuminated.

On opening the store Monday morning the contents of the trays, valued at $1,100, were
gone, and there was no trace of the manner in which the entrance was gained.

EDWIN BOOTH—Thank heaven, the champion remains in the profession.

He Says His Return Has Nothing to Do with Politics.

Patrick Egan, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the United States to Chili, arrived in this city this morning from Santiago on the Pacific mail steamer Newport.

A big delegation of prominent Irishmen and representatives of Irish societies were at the dock at the foot of Canal street at an early hour to welcome back their countryman after an exciting and interesting residence in the South American Republic.

Among those in the party were Patrick Ford, of the Irish World; Austin E. Ford, Augustine Ford, Edward Ford, Col. Cavanagh and Handman, of the Irish World; Frank H. Ward, of the Irish World; and many others.

Mr. Egan reached her dock a few minutes after 10 o'clock, and Minister Egan, who stood on the upper deck, attired in a gray sued suit and fall overcoat, was greeted with an outburst of applause from his friends on the dock.

He was greeted by a delegation of Irishmen and representatives of Irish societies, who were waiting for him at the dock. He was greeted with an outburst of applause from his friends on the dock.

He was greeted by a delegation of Irishmen
and representatives of Irish societies, who
were waiting for him at the dock. He was greeted with an outburst of applause from
his friends on the dock.